ASSERTS BONUS MEN HAD MORE DEFEATS

Editor of Disabled Veterans' Magazine Declares Antis Fared Better at Polls.

STATEMENT IS DISPUTED

Col. Taylor of Legion Committee Says Gratuity Supporters Are Largely Increased.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald Tribune.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.

World war veterans organizations disagree on the part the bonus played in the election of the new Congress. Col. John Thomas Taylor, vice-chairman of the national legislative committee of the American Legion, asserted today that votes against the bonus in the Senate and House caused the defeat of many Senators and Representatives.

S. Lovenheim, editor of the Disabled Veterans Magazine, denied this and said he could prove that those who supported the bonus measured suffered most at the polls.

"Senator Lodge's old following divided on the bonus," added Lovenheim. "Thousands quit him because of his vote for the bill. It was that disgusted element that came close to beating him. Senator McCumber, the great advocate of the bonus in the Senate, was defeated in the primaries. His attitude on the bonus no doubt had something to do with that."

"I am satisfied from a study of the situation that the Senate of the new Congress will be less inclined to a bonus bill than the present one is at heart. It is my guess that Messrs. Edwards of New Jersey, Bayard of Delaware, and Bruce of Maryland are opposed to bonus legislation. That is as far as my canvass has gone."

"It is possible now," said Col. Taylor, "to assess the results of the election as they will affect the former service men and women. It was a stupendous victory for the cause of the veteran and will result in enactment of legislation of benefit to him. Many Senators, out of sympathy with the nation's defenders, were defeated. Their places are taken by new Senators responsive to the wishes of their constituents."

"Senators who were friendly to the great financial interests and enemies of those who profited most out of the war have gone by the board. Caesar of New York, du Pont of Delaware, Frothingham of New Jersey and France of Maryland were defeated. The people revolted in these States and cast out these leading opponents of adjusted compensation. And the great financial interests which they have represented were unable to save them."

"Viewed from a non-partisan angle, the election clearly demonstrates that the sentiment of the country is behind this legislation for veterans of the world war."

"These four Senators went down to overwhelming defeat in the course of the people to express their will through the only means they had—the ballot. Of 19 Senators up for re-election who voted for adjusted compensation last September, 13 were re-elected. Fifteen of the 18 newly elected Senators favor the soldiers measure. The list of anti-compensation Senators has been cut from 33 to 24 as follows: Four were defeated in the election: New (Ind.), was repudiated in the primary; Williams (Miss.), Myers (Mont.), and Page (Vt.), not candidates for reelection, and Watson (Ga.), has since died."

"Only three of the newly elected Senators are opposed to the measure. These added to the 24 holdover Senators opposed give the anti-compensation group a maximum voting strength of 27. The 15 new favorable votes coming to the Senate as a result of the election give the adjusted compensation bill 59 votes, or a clear majority of 15 in excess of the two-thirds required to override a Presidential veto."

"The new House of Representatives is more than eight to one in favor of the bill. Nineteen of the 74 opponents were defeated in the election and four were not candidates for reelection."

Steals Junk to Get Back to Friend Dying in Prison

BENJAMIN GARNER, 78, who has been convicted fifteen times in this city alone and has spent most of his life in prison, was brought yesterday before Magistrate Oberwager in Essex Market Court on a charge of robbery. Although known as "Desperate Benny," his last offense was carrying off some old iron worth only a few dollars.

"I took this stuff," he told the Magistrate, "so I could be sent back to jail. I'll get a lawyer to see to it that I go to the workhouse, where my best friends are. The best pal I ever had, English Sam, is dying in the workhouse and I want to be with him at the end."

But English Sam may be dead before Garner gets to the workhouse, for Magistrate Oberwager did not send him. He held him in $1,000 for Special Sessions on a charge of petty larceny.

MILLER TO OPEN LAW OFFICE HERE

Will Live in City and Practice His Profession Independently.

Gov. Miller, it was learned yesterday, will open a law office in this city and live here after his retirement January 1. He has not decided whether he will take an active part in politics, but in any case his advice will be sought by Republican leaders who are endeavoring to rebuild the State machine.

Mr. Miller will not enter an established law firm, it was said. He will practice alone or start a firm of his own. His two years at Albany have cost him more than his salary and he is anxious to get back to work and make some money, according to his friends.

George K. Morris, Republican State chairman, who saw the Governor Sunday at Atlantic City, was asked if Mr. Miller seemed disappointed at the result of the election.

"A man isn't disappointed when he gives up a $10,000 job for a $250,000 one," Mr. Morris said.

The Governor will stay this week at the Sea View Golf Club, near Atlantic City, where he is a guest of William L. Ward, Republican leader of Westchester county, and then go to Virginia Hot Springs for ten days, after which he will return to Albany.

FIVE SURVIVE RAT POISON.

Child Who Died Sunday Only Victim of Orphanage.

Five of the six children who became ill Sunday after eating rat poison while rummaging for food in a garbage can back of St. Michael's Home, Green Ridge, Staten Island, where they were inmates, were reported last night to be out of danger. Mary Daly, who died, was buried yesterday.

Dr. George Mord, Deputy Medical Examiner, has called the case to the attention of Charles Dulles, Assistant District Attorney. Mr. Dulles said, however, that the poisoning was accidental and that he saw no reason to conduct an investigation.

HARDING CAN'T BE HERE.

The Merchants Association was notified yesterday that President Harding will be unable to attend the twenty-fifth anniversary meeting of the association, which is to be held Friday evening. Gov.-elect Alfred E. Smith will be the principal speaker. Others will be Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago. Two opera stars, Frances Alda and Mario Chamice, will sing.

PRICES realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in New York City for week ending Saturday, November 11, on shipments sold out, ranged from 8.50 cents to 18.00 cents per pound and averaged 12.25 cents per pound.—Ad.

The French send us their coffee pots

THE FRENCH, whom many regard as the greatest coffee connoisseurs, can by no human device pass to us their finely sensitized palates—but they have given us their ingenious coffee pots.

If you have almost despaired at the inconsistent flavor of your coffee, the French Biggins now at Lewis & Conger's will be a revelation. They are designed on a unique filtering principle which extracts the full, rich flavor of coffee and eliminates caffeine.

Aside from their usefulness, French Biggins are beautiful works of pottery; made of fine fireproof china in solid tints of golden brown and dark olive.

Other sizes 2, 4, 8, 10 and 12 cups.

BROGUES For Men

Many men who dress smartly are now wearing brogue shoes. Their broad, square lines and heavy leather make them desirable for both appearance and service.

While the low style is the more popular, we also offer brogues in high models.

Smooth calfskin, Norwegian grain or Scotch grain leathers—in black or tan.

Full brogue or semi-brogue styles are also shown in straight lace or blucher.
